PUBLIC COMMENTS BY HOLLYWOOD COSMETOLOGY CENTER

Hollywood Cosmetology Center (“HCC”) strongly disagrees with the decision by ACCSC to withdraw its accreditation. HCC, a small, woman-owned school, has been in business for over 37 years at the same location. During that time, it has been continuously licensed by the state of Oklahoma and fully accredited by the appropriate agencies. It has never been sued, had a complaint filed against it or failed to pass a financial audit.

The withdrawal decision by ACCSC was not based on any issues regarding the HCC facility, faculty, curriculum or financial status. It was further not based on any academic issues or graduation rate issues. Nor did HCC fail any inspection by ACCSC.

Rather, the decision by ACCSC, which cost HCC several thousand dollars to appeal, was based solely on the failure of HCC to submit certain documents to ACCSC by the ACCSC deadlines. This failure was due to circumstances beyond the owner of HCC’s control, including but not limited to a health issue.

HCC regrets that it failed to meet the deadline imposed by ACCSC [it actually did so within 72 hours], but believes the withdrawal of accreditation was excessive, harsh, unfair, a deprivation of HCC’s due process rights and primarily, a disservice to the many current and former students of HCC. Interestingly, after withdrawing HCC’s accreditation for failing to meet an ACCSC deadline, ACCSC failed to meet its own written deadline for notifying HCC of its decision on appeal. This was, apparently, without the kind of consequence that ACCSC imposed on HCC.
